WOMENS EMPOWERMENT AWARENESS CAMP BY DIVAS CLUB

Date of Visit : 16.10.2017 10.30 am

The Womens Empowerment Awareness Camp” was organized by the DIVAS - the Womens Empowerment Cell of Adhi College of Engineering and technology to promote within our institution a culture of respect and equality, promote women intellectuality and upliftment.

The chief guest for the function was Ms. Sneha Mohandoss, Founder and CEO, Food Bank – India. The function was presided over by our Correspondent Mrs. Saranya Saran and the function was convened by our CEO madam Mrs. Sujatha Maran.

Food Bank- India is a facebook initiative which was started as a help group amongst friends and relative to provide food for the needy. Food Bank is an innovative food drive which was started in Chennai as a project to eradicate hunger in India and it serves as a the life boat of change educating people that charity indeed begins at home. The concept of Food Bank is quite simple: While cooking food for their families, the members of this group also cook extra food for the poor. Then based on information collected through Facebook or Whatsapp, the food is packed and distributed by volunteers to the street dwellers in different areas. The food provided is fresh home cooked food as the drive believed that even the weak and poor, deserve home cooked healthy food and not just and any leftovers.

Ms. Sneha Mohandoss is just 25 years old and has completed her graduation as a Bachelor of Science in Visual Communications at Ethiraj College, Chennai. She currently is pursuing her Masters in Social work at Annamalai University. With her undying and persistent efforts Food Bank currently has now immensely grown with over 24 chapters across the country with nearly 20,000 online members in just over two years. Its her “Never say never” attitude and relentless hard work which enabled her to achieve so much in life.
